

Impressions Song Lyrics By Kemrie:

U wanna know where this thing goes?
That's underneath Mi time
I've wasted all Mi life figuring the lines
U wanna say everything glows
The thoughts around these hopes
There's nowhere now to go
But with the empty ghost

U say, U say, you're fine now
And I blame, I blame Mi vulnerable side
I've been slowly dancing with the demon
Hiding at Mi closet door
I can't say no more

As he wrote U would draw close
And proud as he behaves
It's keeping me awake for hundred nights and days and Bittersweet as the hands flow
I long for heaven sake,
The sight of being vain is Cruel as most acclaim and

U say, U say, you're fine now
And I blame, I blame Mi vulnerable side
I've been slowly dancing with the demon
Hiding at Mi closet door
I can't say no more

Impressions, impressions R making me wild
I stare at the moment and still observe
Went to Pemberley sharing cups at three
And reconcile from the beautiful sight
I see through those eyes

Walking miles to heavy colds
Alas I found your grace
It's seeping through the places of your pen and page and

U say, U say, you'll find out
And I blame, I blame Mi terrible strife
I've been glancing through the words
U got me shying to the things I swore
I can't say no more

Impressions, impressions R making me wild
I stare at the moment and still observe
Went to Pemberley sharing cups at three

And reconcile from the beautiful sight
I see through those eyes

In Mi belief and in Mi presence
I really must thought they'd be something now
I really must go, I let it go
